STRIKE NOW—BEAVERBROOK

Creation Of Second Front Against Germany Urged By British Lord

NEW YORK, April 24.—Creation by Great Britain of a vast second front against Germany in western Europe while Russia still holds the Nazis in the east is urged by Lord Beaverbrook in the belief Russia "may settle the war for us in 1942."

The British Lord-Lord Beaverbrook in Washington declared last night that "by holding the Germans in check, possibly even by defeating them, the Russians may be the means of bringing the whole Axis structure down."

Addressing the American Newspaper Publishers' association's Bureau of Advertising at its annual dinner, Beaverbrook, himself publisher of the London Daily Express and the Evening Standard, said of the proposed British offensive:

"This is a chance, an opportunity to bring the war to an end here and now. But if the Russians are defeated and driven out of the war, never will such a chance come to us again."

Strike out to help Russia. Strike out violently. Strike even recklessly, but any event such blows that real help will be our share and contribution to the Russian battlefront."

Expressing belief in the Russian theory that the best form of defense is attack, he called upon Britain to "adopt it by setting up somewhere along the 2,000 miles of coastline now held by the Germans, a second front in western Europe."

Beaverbrook spoke from the same platform as Francis B. Sayre, U. S. high commissioner to the Philippines, Admiral Ernest J. King, commander in chief of the U. S. fleet, and others at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel dinner closing the ANPA's 56th annual convention.

In blunt and frank detail, the British publisher disclosed for the first time just how close his homeland was to disaster in the early stages of the war before the United States gave both barrels to its war effort against the Axis.

Household Routine Upset By Curbing Of Delivery Trips

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, April 24.—The government order requiring the reduction of mileage on delivery vehicles means the further curtailment of services housewives long have expected from business houses, milk companies and bread firms, experts agreed today.

The Office of Defense Transportation order prohibits special deliveries after May 15, eliminates callbacks, and bans more than one delivery a day to any home. After June 1, merchandisers and local carriers must reduce mileage 25 per cent each month as compared with the corresponding 1941 month.

The milk and bread industries virtually have eliminated special deliveries already, and have cut callbacks to a minimum in most cities, officials said.

Prof. Robert B. Stoltz of the Ohio State university dairy technology department said the order means milk companies who have not already done so probably will go to daylight deliveries so that collections can be made by salesmen as they bring the milk to the housewife.

He added that every-other-day delivery, already instituted in some cities, ultimately would become general.

LEETONIAN DIES IN AUTO MISHAP

Coroner Rules "Accident" In Death Of John Gongaware, Aged 45

A verdict of "unavoidable accident" was returned today by Coroner Arnold W. Devan in the death of John Gongaware, 45, of Leetonia who was killed by an automobile in Leetonia yesterday. Gongaware, who was employed by the National Sanitary Co. here, was Columbiana county's fourth traffic victim this year.

The coroner reported that the victim walked into the side of a car driven by Steven McClum of Washingtonville near the intersection of N. Walnut st. and Wood ave. in Leetonia. A broken neck was listed as the cause of death.

Mr. Gongaware is believed to have been enroute home after attending a movie. Born in Leetonia May 25, 1896, he was the son of Aaron and Alice Gongaware. He is survived by one brother, Ralph, of Washingtonville, and two sisters, Mrs. Charles Hum of Salem and Mrs. Eugene Lyle of Alliance.

Funeral service will be held at the Woods funeral home in Leetonia at 2 p. m. Saturday, in charge of Rev. William Snowball of the Leetonia First Methodist church. Burial will be in Oakdale cemetery there.

Explosives Permit Denied

LISBON, April 24.—The clerk of courts office this morning refused to approve the application of Samuel Cooper, 38, of Middleton, for a permit to handle explosives. Cooper, a Quaker, was released this week by U. S. officials who had taken him into custody for refusing the sign in the February draft registration. Cooper, who operates a general store at Middleton, sought a permit to handle explosives for sale, the clerk's office intimated.

EAST PONDER'S FUEL RATIONS

Gasoline Shortage Threatens Wide Dislocations, Tax Money Losses

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The populous east coast, facing a severe card rationing of motor fuel, began to wonder today how it would be to live in a "gasoline age" with precious little gasoline.

Not alone will the owners of 10,000,000 automobiles feel the impact, but government officials agreed, a condition approaching a famine of gasoline would impinge on many phases of life for other millions of people.

Reactions to the announcement of rationing in the 17 Atlantic seaboard states and the District of Columbia carried a tone of serious concern over economic, social and even government operating repercussions.

These were some of the developments:

1. An official quarter observed that a serious revenue problem might be created for the federal government and some of the 17 states, with the states being in danger of losing half or even more of the $335,000,000 net they collect annually from gasoline taxes.

2. A dire outlook was predicted for resorts and other businesses dependent upon motor-borne customers.

3. Petroleum quarters expressed concern that severe dislocations might occur in their industry, including the closing down of many of the 100,000 eastern filling stations.

The fears along the coast were allayed somewhat last night after both Price administrator Leon Henderson and Petroleum Coordinator Ickes said there was no basis for a report that the rationing program, effective May 15, probably would limit each automobile to a little as 2 1/2 to 5 gallons a week. The report originated in Henderson's organization.

An Ickes aide said a "more likely" allowance would be 25 gallons per automobile a month.

Hospitals Represented At Columbus Conference

Representatives of the two Salem hospitals attended the 42nd annual convention of the Ohio Hospital association Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday in Columbus.

From City hospital were: Miss Esther Wilson, hospital superintendent, who attended the entire convention; Miss Miriam Forbes, laboratory technician; and Miss Myrtle Windle, bookkeeper at City hospital, who were present Wednesday; and Miss Iona Bower, City hospital laboratory technician, who attended Tuesday and Wednesday.

Albert Hanna, Central Clinic hospital manager, attended the Wednesday and Thursday meetings; Miss Dorothy Arter, laboratory technician, Miss Mildred Pearce, record librarian, and Mrs. Glenn Detrow, nurse at the Clinic, were present for the three days.

Salem's Community Chest Campaign Slated To Begin Tuesday; Workers to Meet Monday

Walter F. Deming Chairman Of Welfare Drive; T. E. Miller Assistant

Under the direction of Walter F. Deming, campaign chairman, and his assistant, T. E. Miller, Salem's annual Community Chest campaign will get under way next week, with the expectation that it will be brought to a successful close by Wednesday evening.

Leaders and team workers will meet at the Memorial building for dinner Monday evening to receive instructions and pledge cards and they will start out Tuesday morning to make a thorough canvass of the entire city. In all, 125 will be engaged in this solicitation work.

Only team captains will meet in the Memorial building Tuesday evening to submit reports of the first day's work and on Wednesday evening all workers will assemble for the final reports.

The goal this year is $22,600 to aid the following ten agencies: Salvation Army, Red Cross, Memorial Building, Salem City hospital, Central Clinic hospital, Home for Aged Women, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Girls Friendly council and Catholic charities.

Team captains and members announced by the campaign managers follow:

POTTERY INDUSTRY PRICES ARE FIXED

Hundreds Of China And Pottery Articles Affected By C.F.A. Action

(By Associated Press)

The government late yesterday brought the $50,000,000 china and pottery industry under price control today with an order freezing the manufacturers' price on hundreds of china and pottery articles—cups, plates, dishes, pitchers and bowls among them.

The Office of Price Administration order fixed the price ceiling on vitreous ware, at 5 per cent above those levels.

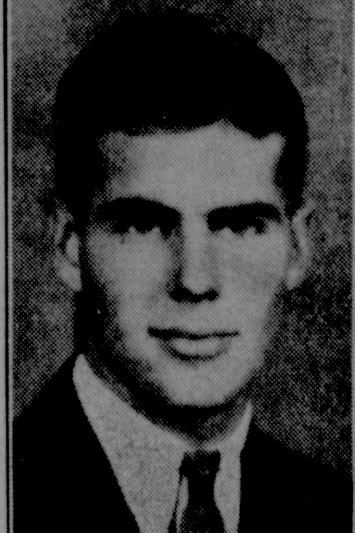

Both classes of manufacturers have held prices stable at OPA's request since last February 1, at which time they rescinded a proposed 10 per cent increase in order to give OPA time to complete an exhaustive study of industry costs. The 5 per cent advance granted to semi-vitreous manufacturers was in recognition of lower profit margins existing in that branch of the industry.

The order is effective next Monday. It covers both domestic and export sales by manufacturers. Stone and art pottery are not affected.

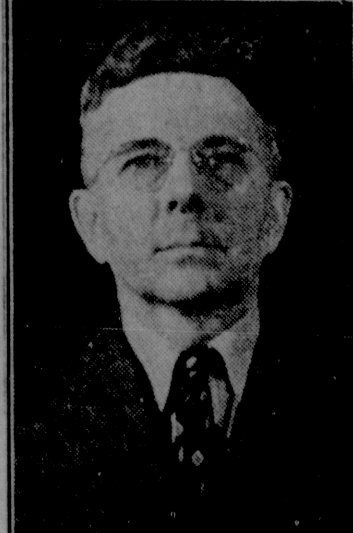

Another appeal was issued today by Mrs. L. D. Cessna, chairman of the Blood Donor campaign, for more registrants who are willing to give their blood to save soldiers lives.

The mobile blood donor unit of the Red Cross will be in Salem next Thursday and Friday, but it is necessary that volunteers register now. Headquarters for this purpose are at the Memorial building, where registrations are being made every day between 10 a. m. and 6 p. m. and from 7 to 9 p. m. You can register by calling 4500.

An application was received from a woman 64 years old who was anxious to donate some of her blood, but she could not be registered because she is more than 60. You

How Community Fund Serves

Leading citizens in every community have given their time and guidance to Boy Scouts for many years. As Scouting is character-building and offers training in useful pursuits, they have watched these boys grow into fine men and useful citizens.

The movement has grown tremendously, not only in the number of boys it has encompassed but in its objectives and achievements as well. Scouting has become more than a mere pastime. It is an inseparable part of community and national life. Its teachings are the foundations upon which the citizenship of tomorrow is erected. The Boy Scout motto is "Be Prepared."

Girl Scouting, also, has made rapid advances because the obligations and privileges of good citizenship accrue to women as well as men.

The Boy Scout and Girl Scout programs have meant so much to Salem that both organizations should be maintained, and the Community Chest is the means through which every citizen can show his faith in the city's boys and girls.

Salem Apple Fete Is Set For Oct. 1-3

Salem's second annual Apple Festival will be held Oct. 1, 2 and 3, the dates having been selected at a meeting of festival officers and apple growers last night.

Attending the meeting were Floyd Lower of Lisbon and J. C. Hedges of Canfield, agricultural agents of Columbiana and Mahoning counties. They and the apple growers were enthusiastic over the prospects of presenting a festival which will be more attractive than the first one last fall. Rain all three days spoiled last year's event.

C. W. Kaminsky is president of the festival organization.

WAR BOND SAVING GOAL ANNOUNCED

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Uncle Sam wants the 50,000,000 Americans who get a regular income to put at least 10 per cent of it into War Bonds.

Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau said in launching the campaign last night that all those who have been earning especially high pay in war industries should put up even more than 10 per cent.

Ohio's war Savings Bond quota for May will be $31,768,700, the Treasury department announced today. Average monthly sale in the state has been $23,115,679. The national quota is $600,000,000.

Three Persons Injured In Automobile Collision

Three persons suffered minor injuries in an accident at the junction of Routes 7 and 14, east of Columbiana, at 8:30 p. m. yesterday when cars driven by Ernest Grandfield, 31, of Mount City, Ill., and Winton L. Ramsey, 29, of Youngstown, collided.

Grandfield suffered a bruised left arm and hip while his wife, Wilma, suffered from shock. Ramsey was treated for chest bruises, lacerated nose and a lacerated right thumb and knee.

All were admitted to Salem City hospital for treatment.

RAF HAMMERS BALTIC PORT

Bombs Dropped At Rostock; Germans Step Up English Visits

By ROGER D. GREENE Associated Press War Editor

British air raiders, systematically blasting Germany's war nerve centers, set great fires at the German Baltic port of Rostock last night and apparently inflicted heavy damage, the London air ministry announced today, while Nazi warplanes stepped up the tempo of their attacks on England.

Described as the home of the Heinkel aircraft works, Rostock is a shipbuilding center and a major base for German war supplies flowing to the Russian-Finnish fronts.

A British spokesman said the assault was "heavy and quite successful," with widespread flames sweeping the busy port as the last RAF bombers turned back.

"Four of our aircraft are missing," the air ministry said.

At home, Britons reacted enthusiastically to Lord Beaverbrook's speech in New York last night urging creation of a second front in western Europe.

London comment ranged from the man-in-the-street's jubilant "You tell 'em, Beaver!" to more restrained remarks in informed military circles, and many observers interpreted the speech as symptomatic of a governmental change of heart toward the idea of a European front this year.

More than a dozen Britons were killed in German raids, with the Nazis dive-bombing an English southeast coast town at breakfast and pelting a working-class district with high explosives.

Returns Are Incomplete On Benefit Production

Funds received from a benefit minstrel show given by East Palestine entertainers are being tabulated by the medical preparedness committee of the Salem Defense council. The show was presented here Thursday night to raise money for the purchase of supplies needed by the committee.

The entertainers donated their services and the entire production and local service groups including the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Girl Scouts, assisted in the ticket sale.

Crew Of American Bomber Which Participated In Tokyo Raid Interned After Landing In Russian Territory

(By Associated Press.)

Japan's invasion armies, seeking a quick knockout of Allied forces in Burma, have driven within 100 miles of Mandalay apparently in a lightning 80-mile thrust from Loikaw, British headquarters disclosed today.

A communique said fresh attacks were developing in the Taunggyi area, 100 miles south of the Allied base at Mandalay, after capturing three key cities in a new headlong offensive.

Other attacks were reported near Shwenyau, 100 miles east of Taunggyi.

Taunggyi is 80 miles north of Loikaw, the most advanced position previously reported taken by the Japanese in that section of their three-way drive into upper Burma. Loikaw fell Tuesday night.

"Reports of both engagements were meager, but matters appear to be progressing satisfactorily," the communique said.

CLERKS AWAIT REGISTRANTS

Plans Complete For Fourth Draft Enrollment Saturday, Sunday, Monday

Salem draft board clerks, augmented by force of 15 volunteer registrars, will be on hand to enroll the 45 to 65 year old men in the Fourth draft registration at the Memorial building Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

The registration will take place in the gymnasium of the Memorial building it was announced today, instead of the draft board office which has been used in the three previous registrations. The volunteer registrars are girls who have been recruited from local plants.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Like millions of other Americans 45 to 64 years old, inclusive President Roosevelt will register Monday, but in his case the registrars are going to the White House. And probably, Mr. Roosevelt told a press conference today, there will be some pictures taken.

Draft Board Clerk R. R. Woods said.

Residents of Salem and Perry township are asked to register at the Memorial building. Other district registration points are:

Leetonia village hall in Leetonia the office of Atty W. O. Wallace in Columbiana, the Maple funeral home at Kensington, for those living in West and Hanover townships, and the Reichenbach garage in North Georgetown for the Knox township area.

Hours Are Listed

C. W. McGrath has been named to assist Wallace as registrar at Columbiana. Earl Marshall will act as a registrar at Leetonia, while W. C. Maple is registrar of the Kensington district and A. L. Reichenbach at North Georgetown.

Men required to register in the Fourth call are all citizens and aliens who attained their 45th birthday on or before last Feb. 16 and who will not reach their 65th anniversary on or before April 27. Those registrants are not liable for military service. The occupational questionnaires which they will receive in the near future are for the purpose of providing information only, it is pointed out.

Hours of registration will be: Saturday, April 25, 12 noon to 6 p. m.

Sunday, April 26, 12 noon to 6 p. m.

Monday, April 27, 7 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Organ Recital Planned

An organ recital will be given at St. John's Episcopal church, Wick ave., Youngstown, by Julian Williams, organist of St. Stephen's Episcopal church in Sewickley, Pa. at 8:15 p. m. Tuesday. One of the outstanding musicians of the Pittsburgh district, he is presented by the American Guild of Organists.

The recital is open to the public.

Japan, still puzzled about the "mystery base" from which U. S. bombers raided Tokyo six days ago, asserted today that Washington had not let issued a communique on the assault because "it has no way of communicating with the American warplanes which attacked Japan."

A Japanese spokesman, Tomokazu Hori, said this meant that none of the raiders had returned to their bases.

Landing Confirmed

While Tokyo thus sought to draw information from Washington, Russia announced that one of the American bombers had made a forced landing on the Soviet Maritime province, facing the sea of Japan, and had been interned with its crew in compliance with international law.

Russia's action appeared to be an already completed test of the year-old neutrality pact between Tokyo and Moscow, but U. S. embassy officials in Khabyshev said Ambassador Admiral William H. Standley had been informed of the circumstances and had asked Washington for instructions.

Russia is still technically at peace with Japan, and Tokyo newspapers stressed that fact along with the hope that friendly relations between the two countries might be strengthened through Russia's better understanding of the greater East Asia war.

"There is no reason why Japan and Russia should quarrel," said the newspaper Asahi.

Other Tokyo comment asserted that "Britain and the United States have little chance to pit Russia against Japan."

Tokyo's nervousness over relations with Russia stems in part from the extreme vulnerability of Japan to bombing and submarine attacks based in the Soviet port of Vladivostok, only 600 miles across the set

THE GREATEST THEORY THERE IS

In the beginning, the founding fathers had a theory about how human beings could live together. They got it out of the Bible mostly, with bits and pieces borrowed from the liberal philosophers of the times.

All it called for, aside from certain details of procedure, was to believe it was possible for a government to trust the people and vice versa. The way to keep the thing going was to make the government belong to the people.

That's really all there was to it—an idea so big that it still is the biggest thing there is in political thought. Every so often a throwback like Hitler squawks that it won't work and goes back to the whips and strong-arm gangs to keep the people in line. But when that happens it merely proves that on the whole there is no substitute for the theory of the founding fathers—not among civilized people, anyway.

Its the greatest theory there is—greatest because decade in and decade out it works the best. Like any other theory, however, it only works about as well as it is made to work. That is to say, there's no magic in the theory; all the magic is in the men who use the theory as a guide for their political conduct. Those who really believe in government by, for and of the people and understand how to make that kind of government work are capable of performing miracles.

Right now one of the miracles on their schedule is a vast program of war financing to be carried out by the people's voluntary purchases of government securities—War Savings Bonds and Stamps. This is the only country on earth where government financiers could dare to think of raising more than a pittance by voluntary action. The standard approach in an authoritarian system would be, of course, to start out with veiled coercion, pass quickly from that to direct coercion and end up in confiscation. But the United States still dares to believe that the people's own sense of responsibility is stronger than coercion.

The founding fathers who put together this republic 150 years ago would be pleased—and probably astonished—if they knew how long their theory has lasted, how well it has worked and what men still are willing to try in its name.

CAUTION: STATISTICIANS

Patently, the statistical experts are prodding the people of America through the ABC's of inflation. It is something that happens when people have money to spend, wants to satisfy and a shortage of goods. The reason it may happen now is because this year America is going to have $86,000,000,000 to spend after it has paid its taxes and met its commitments. The way things look now—at existing prices—the $86,000,000,000 will have to be spent on $65,000,000,000 worth of stuff. That means $21,000,000,000 can be used by consumers to bid up the prices on everything for sale. As prices rise everything else starts upward, and that is inflation.

It is a deeply impressive statistical picture, clean-cut as a cameo. Looking at it, one thinks of all the paper work being done in Washington these days and whistles in admiration for the ability of so many people to mill about so badly and yet emerge with a conclusion. This is at least a sample of national economic planning on a grand scale. There has been nothing like it since the same experts figured out the reverse of the inflationary problem—how to make prices rise by priming the economic pump with federal funds. The objective then was to produce inflation, not to stifle it. Everything was figured out to a nicety by the statisticians. But pump priming was a bust.

Their fellow citizens can't be blamed for wondering whether the dope has been analyzed and concocted better by the statisticians this time. To get down to cases, they wonder how many citizens with $860 to spend on $650 worth of stuff, leaving $210 to bid up prices, the statisticians could find if they started to hunt.

COLLABORATION

Apprehension, which gave the Axis a head start on its plot to conquer the world, has served its purpose. It will be heard from no more.

Collaboration is the new idea. Pierre Laval is its most notorious disciple. He was preceded by the minor league Balkan statesmen who took over when the major leagues finally were ousted by Nazi intrigue.

The collaborator plays another man's game to suit another man's purpose. He has great capacity for seeing things through another man's eyes, as Laval now is able to see France through the eyes of Adolf Hitler.

The collaborator has no separate identity. He defends no principles of his own, except the wholly personal conviction that by becoming the slave of another individual he somehow can save his own skin. The collaborator is an expert at accommodating himself to forces that he believes are beyond his control.

Just as the appeaser would stoop to anything to avert war, the collaborator easily descends to any depths to minimize the consequences of war. He is on the lookout for an easy way to live, forgetting that the price of an easy way never can be as cheap as collaboration.

Laval is a symbolic figure—the first collaborator to become internationally conspicuous. There will be others. The appeasers have not all been converted. Many of them will reappear, as collaborators.

ALL FACTS NOW AVAILABLE

Registration of men from 45 to 64 during the week-end completes the last collecting job undertaken in the terms of the selective service act. The nation's potential manpower for the war effort has been canvassed. From now on, registrations will be for the purpose of noting changes.

It is not known precisely what use is to be made of the latest bloc of registrants. But, in view of the exigencies of total war, the registration needs no justification. It was fortunate for the United States that its first registration was held long enough before war began so that the paper work all had been completed when the war emergency reached a climax on Dec. 7.

Manpower mobilization, incidentally, is one of the things the United States was not supposed to be able to do; the Axis powers counted on that. It is a pleasure to surprise them on one more count.

THE STARS SAY:

For Saturday, April 25

WHILE THERE may be much high pressure and energy expended in the direction of major objectives and cherished ambitions on this day yet it may be well to be armed with resolution, perseverance, decisive action and plans in order to cope with obstacles, delays and determined opposition, from elders, strangers, females and possibly from the public or other organized group or corporate body. Tact, compromise and diplomacy may win out against stubborn, malicious antagonisms.

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves unusually active and energetic in the attainment of important objectives or much desired ambitions, during the year, but they should be fortified by resolution, perseverance and practical and constructive programs and methods in order to overcome determined opposition and delays and obstacles, coming from old persons or institutions, from strange sources or from feminine antagonism. The public, or other groups, may withhold cooperation, but there should be influential friends ready to assist.

A child born on this day should be energetic, ambitious constructive, bold and determined, which it may need to overcome obstacles.

NOISES CAUSE EAR INJURIES

Defender Devices Are Valuable, Doctor Says

BY LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

IN THESE days when the American public is exposed to all sorts of unusual noises, with the increase of workers in industrial plants, the possibility of artillery and bombing training going on, it is well to know that the best specialists in ear diseases.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

case in the country believe that ear defenders are very valuable in preventing injury to the ear.

Some authorities maintain that 25 per cent of all cases of nerve impairments of the ear result from exposure to occupational noises. It is safe to conclude that no one engaged for as long as five or more years in such noisy work as pneumatic riveting escapes impairment of hearing.

Boiler Workers Deafened

One study reveals that 75 per cent of the workers in a boiler factory were unable to hear at all at a public meeting, or could hear only with difficulty. Other studies demonstrate that the production rate of typists, inspectors and weavers is diminished by noise, and the rate decreases progressively as the intensity of the noise increases.

Most of the injurious effects of noise are preventable. Of course engineers and managers of industrial plants have endeavored for a long time to diminish noise in factories, but a great deal can be accomplished with the development and use of effective ear stoppers or defenders.

Simple wax or rubber stoppers in the ears will reduce noise by as much as 25 to 35 decibels. Even cotton in the ears provides a certain amount of insulation against noise. Loose cotton reduces noise by seven decibels and cotton rolled in to a tight taper provides an insulation of 12 decibels. Wax and cotton mixtures insulate up to 35 decibels and especially well-fitted rubber stoppers will produce an insulation of 50 decibels.

Intensity of Sounds

The intensity of some familiar sounds are: whispering, 30 to 40 decibels; a conversation 55 to 65; noise in a subway train, 80 to 90; riveting, pneumatic drilling, airplane engines, 95 to 125. Thus on a subway train, ordinary speech will have to attain a level of 95 or nearly twice its normal intensity in order to be recognized.

Contrary to what might be expected under conditions of noise, ear defenders do not make conversation more difficult to hear. If exposed to excessive noise for any length of time, the ear apparatus becomes numb and those who have had protection are better able to hear than those who have not. Besides in any noisy environment, it is natural for everyone to raise the voice and under these conditions, the people who wear ear defenders are better able to hear what is said to them than those who do not.

Questions and Answers

C. O.:—"I would like to know if asthma in a child is catching?"

Answer: No, not if it is true asthma. Whooping cough sometimes resembles asthma and the distinction should be made.

D. J. C.:—"Does taking mineral oil spoil the value of the vitamins taken in the system?"

Answer: Probably not, but the way to be sure is to take your mineral oil at night and the vitamins in the foods, or, if you are taking synthetic vitamins between meals, in which case they certainly will not interfere.

J. H. T.:—"What are the best foods for a man having high blood pressure?"

Answer: "Authoritier used to cut out meat, eggs and protein foods but nowadays they let patients have a moderate amount of these. There is no special kind of food that has either good or bad influences on high blood pressure. The most important thing for a man with high blood pressure is to be moderate in all things and to eat very sparingly.

T. C.:—"What is bronchiectasis? What is its cause and can it be cured? Is it a step toward tuberculosis?"

Answer: Bronchiectasis is a dilation of the ends of the bronchial tubes caused by chronic infection. The dilated ends of the bronchial tubes become full of pus and infection. It is often called chronic bronchitis. Those subject to this trouble take cold very easily, cough and expectorate a good deal. The disease itself was nothing to do with tuberculosis, although it may be mistaken for it by ignorant people. Treatment consists in going to a warm, dry climate, using postural drainage, which is to hang with the head and chest over the side of the bed so that secretions can be brought out more easily and cleaning up any infections in the nose, which is the origin of the trouble.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendening has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp to Dr. Logan Clendening, 235 E. 45th st., New York. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene," and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

COLUMBUS—The English department of Ohio State University lent its weight to the defense effort when all classes were requested to write on both sides of the paper.

The Problems Of Rationing

Administrator Discusses Methods and Reasons, Calling for Co-operation of Public

BY JOHN T. BURNS

What would be the case with rationing? To tractors which could be used on highways would constitute a problem of highway regulations? A. Certificates for rubber tires could be denied if the use of the tractor on the highway is incidental to its normal use. Such a case would be one in which a tractor is used for operations on adjoining lands separated by a highway and must be crossed to operate other tracts. Should a tractor be required to operate on a highway a considerable length of time, in operation of highway regulations, the necessity of such operation proven to the satisfaction of the road, such tractor would be eligible for tires.

Q. Are scooter bike tires subject to rationing regulations? A. No. It depends upon the tire as if the tires are of sizes not able of being used on motor-

"EVERYTHING GOOD FOR THE HOME"

You Don't Need Refined Sweets, Experts Report, But Here's Recipe For Getting 'Em

By RENNIE TAYLOR

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.—(Wide World)—If that half-pound of sugar a week won't satisfy your personal cravings, you can get plenty of additional sweets from unrationed foods by using a little ingenuity and muscle.

Take some dried fruit, a refrigerator and a shallow pan and some cheesecloth and you can make all the fruit syrup you want. This syrup can be used in place of sugar in cooking many dishes.

The U. S. Department of agriculture and the various state nutrition committees under national defense council sponsorship will tell you how.

But before you fly at any of this—and before going on to some suggestions—note what the nutritionists say about your sweet tooth.

Half a pound of sugar a week is just half a pound more than you really need for a balanced diet.

In 1923, when Uncle Sam was just becoming a stalwart in the family of nations and his virile sons were beginning to take the great west, the per capita consumption of sugar was less than three ounces a week.

The Eskimos never tasted sweets until the white man came along, yet they were stout fellows, and up until then never had much dental trouble.

Sugarless Candy Bar

To make a sugarless candy bar with a minimum of effort, grind up assorted raw dried fruits and nut meats and stick them together with a little honey. Raisins, prunes and figs make a palatable mixture, Dr. Cruess reports.

To sweeten certain things without sugar:

COFFEE — Add honey, maple syrup, corn syrup or sorghum syrup. Don't use fruit syrups, particularly prune and raisin, which will curdle the cream.

DRY CEREALS and oat meal—in cooking, says Dr. Cruess, but do not serve very well as a table sweet.

Pillsbury's Best Enriched Flour, 2 tps. salt, 1/4 tsp. pepper, 1/4 tsp. paprika, 1/2 c. corn, drained. Turn into 2 1/2-qt. casserole, cover; cook about 30 min. in moderate oven (350° F.). Top with Biscuit Topping: 4. Sift and measure 2 c. Pillsbury's Best Enriched Flour. (The harder men work, the more they need B-vitamins! Pillsbury's Best contains two added B-vitamins—more essential than ever in these strenuous days for sound nerves, good appetite, the ability to stand up under hard physical activity—plus iron to help build red blood.) Add 3 tps. baking powder (or 2 tps. double-acting), 1/4 tsp. salt; sift together twice. 5. Cut in 1/4 c. shortening till mixture is like coarse meal. 6. Add 1 c. milk all at once; stir only till flour is damp. Drop by spoonfuls over meat mixture. (These fluffy biscuits will come toothsome and tender from the oven. Your assurance: Pillsbury's Best is Bake-Proved! 4 to 6 times a day during milling, Pillsbury's Best is given actual baking tests to protect your baking success. With "thrift" and "saving" the watchwords of today, you can't afford baking failures. Use Bake-Proved Pillsbury's Best for kitchen thrift and mealtime satisfaction.) Bake in hot oven (450° F.). Serve at once. Here's "fightin' food," packed with essential vitamins and minerals necessary for good health! Give your family the benefit of a hearty, savory Pillsbury Meat and Vegetable Medley for dinner tonight!

Partners Now Rivals

CANTON, April 24.—O. E. Whitacre of Minerva and Herman R.
Witter partners in the last session of the state senate, will be rivals for the nominations to the next.
At the last elections they were victorious for the two Stark-Carroll county posts, but for the coming term there will be but one seat for the district. Both have taken out petitions for the Democratic nomination.

INTEREST SHOWN
IN SENATE RACES

Expected To Run Close
Second To Ohio Gubernatorial Contest

By H. H. DAUGHERTY
COLUMBUS, April 24.—Next to the gubernatorial contest, selection of state senators is expected to arouse chief interest in Ohio's 1942 general election.

Starting with a bare majority in January, 1941, Republicans through the death of Senator Grant P. Ward of Franklin now are unable to pass legislation without the aid of at least one Democrat.

The Democrats have lost two senators through death, Otto J. Bartunek of Cuyahoga and Harry A. Hughes of Butler. They now have 15 members to 18 for the Republicans.

Republicans are expected to make a determined effort to raise their membership in the next senate above last session's 12, and the Democrats probably will put up a strong battle to gain control.

Present indications are that most of the incumbents, Republican and Democrat, will be candidates for re-nomination in the August primary.

Republicans Hopeful

Re-establishment of the old districts by supreme court order has given the Republicans increased hope not only of maintaining their present senate representation but also increasing it.

One of the uncertainties to be worked out by the Republicans is the situation in the 27th-29th district composed of Lorain, Medina, Ashland and Richland counties, now represented by Senators P. H. Rogers and Joseph Jameson, both of Lorain county.

That district will be entitled to but one senator and whether both Rogers and Jameson will seek reelection is undetermined. Jameson is understood to have declared his intention to run. Rogers, who has been ill, has not yet spoken.

Minority Leader William M. Boyd of Cuyahoga said James M. Metz-baum will not seek re-election, and Charles A. Vanik might not also. A brother of the late Senator Bartunek may enter the primary race for one of the six Cuyahoga places.

Arthur H. Hamilton of Lebanon, former speaker of the house and veteran member of that branch, is expected to be a Republican candidate for the senate in the 2nd-4th district, composed of Butler, Warren, Clermont and Brown counties. What Democrats will seek the nomination to succeed Harry A. Hughes, deceased, is not known.

Although Senator H. T. Phillips (R-Athens) announced his candidacy in opposition to the veteran Republican congressman, Thomas Jenkins of Ironton, it generally is believed he finally will decide to run again for the senate. This opinion prevails among Republican leaders here, particularly since the old districts have been re-established.

Senator Tom Jones of Meigs county already is campaigning for the Republican renomination.

DEATHS

H. FRANK RHODES

H. Frank Rhodes, about 81, died at his home, R. D. 5, Salem, at 10:30 a. m. today following three months' illness of complications.

The son of Andrew and Elizabeth Rhodes, he was born in Green township April 29, 1861, and was a lifelong resident of the township. Mr. Rhodes had been a miner.

Surviving are his wife, Laura; one son, Guy W. Rhodes of Green township; two grandchildren, three great grandchildren, and a brother, Marvin of Damascus.

The funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday at the Arbaugh-Pearce funeral home in charge of Rev. E. O. Hill, pastor of the Greenford Lutheran church. Burial will be in Greenford cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Saturday evening.

MUNTZ RITES

Funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday at the Arbaugh-Pearce funeral home for Frank K. Muntz of 1140 N. Ellsworth ave. who died in Amsterdam, N. Y.

yesterday morning of injuries received in a traffic accident two weeks ago.

Rev. Carl Asmus, pastor of the Methodist church, will conduct the service. Burial will be in Grandview cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home this evening.

BENEDICT RITES

Funeral service will be conducted at 9 a. m. Monday in St. Paul's Catholic church for Joseph Benedict, 68, who died at 1:30 a. m. Thursday at his home, 339 New-garden st.

Rev. Fr. Joseph A. Mahan will conduct the rites. Burial will be in Grandview cemetery. Friends may call at the home anytime.

Mr. Benedict, a former railroad employee, retired for the last 10 years, had lived in Salem since 1935. He was born in Italy March 24, 1873.

Besides his wife, Rose, he leaves two daughters, Miss Mary Benedict and Mrs. Perez Astor of Salem; three sons, August and James of Salem and Louis Benedict of Ambridge, and a nephew, Peter Benedict of the home.

Columbiana Pupils Present Operetta

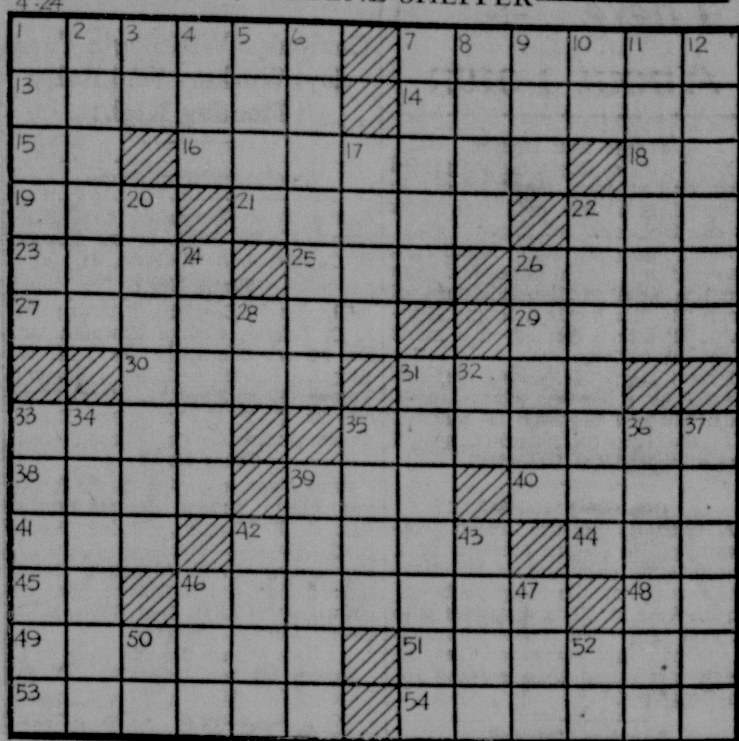

COLUMBIANA, April 24 — The operetta, "The Magic Beanstalk," will be presented this evening at 8 p.m. at the High School auditorium by the first six grades of the school. Produced and directed by Mrs. Supervisor Clair King, assisted by the grade teachers. Accompanying are Leona Ehrhart, Amelia and Anna Mary Shontz. Special solo numbers will be presented by Barbara Caver, Barbara Martin and Eleanor Gobelt. The cast of characters includes: Trader, Vivian Grant; Giant, Duff, Russell Hum, Jim Pringle, Don Moser, Sammy Pringle, and the Giant's wife, Mrs. Novie Cleveland and several others. The story of the operetta is that her husband is now stranded at Camp Grant, Ill. Firemen's volunteer fire department answered two calls Wednesday. The first was sounded at 1 p.m. when a grass fire on Grand st. got out of control. The second was sounded at about 2 p.m. when a fire destroyed part of the store building on Main owned by Misses Blanche and the Butler store. At present the building is vacant. The fire was started by boys who were playing in the rear lot. Quick action on the part of the firemen saved the building. Heads Girl Reserves Miss Connie Griffen was elected president of the Senior Girl Reserves at a recent meeting. Other officers are: Vice president, Ann Esterly; secretary, Esther Cunningham; treasurer, Marydell Ann. Norma Zimmerman presided at the meeting. Miss Ruth Wilson, who gave a talk on health. Final plans were made for a singing to be held Tuesday evening which time the Girl Reserves from East Palestine, Lisbon and Vienna will be guests. Columbiana Music study club met at the Methodist church last night for rehearsal for the National Music week program which will be presented in the church Sunday evening, May 3. Mrs. W. E. Clendenen is the director, and Mrs. Paul Price the accompanist. The committee in charge of arrangements is Mrs. Robert Maurer, Mrs. Ray Todd and Mrs. Maurice Michaud.

EETONIA CHURCH CONDUCTS MISSION

EETONIA, April 24 — Rev. Fr. J. J. Prosser, has opened a two-week mission at St. Patrick's church. Masses are held at 6:30 and 8 a.m. each morning. A congregational dinner and reception for new members was held Thursday evening at the parish house of the Methodist church. Ruth Bible class of the Methodist church met Tuesday evening at the parish house with Mrs. Ben Miller, Mrs. Glen Davis and Mrs. Albert Cox as the committee in charge. Mrs. William Snowball had charge of devotionals. Mrs. Arthur J. Spaholt entertained contract bridge club members Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. C. E. Holt, Jr., entertained "500" club associates at her home Wednesday evening.

LEWIS MAY OUST HIS CIO CHIEFTAIN

Showdown With Murray
Inevitable, Labor Leaders Claim

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Some of the labor movement's best-informed sources were conceding today the inevitability of a showdown between John L. Lewis and his estranged "right arm," Philip Murray, culminating not only in Murray's probable displacement as vice president of the United Mine Workers but in an attempt to expel him from membership as well.

Among significant recent developments were these:

1. Three top officials of the United Mine Workers (CIO) told

Murray in a letter the union probably would do some "house-cleaning" at its October convention.

2. The miners continued to withhold per capita tax payments to the CIO, which Murray heads, while asking repayment of about $1,600,000 advanced to the CIO in its fledgling days when Lewis was its chief. The overdue per capita tax now totals about $60,000.

3. CIO officers replied with a dun for the per capita payments and declared that while "all workers throughout the nation owe a deep debt to the United Mine Workers of America, this debt cannot be measured in dollars." They expressed the opinion the mine workers "did not and do not consider" the money advanced for organization purposes as a debt to be repaid in dollars and cents.

The "housecleaning" suggestion was interpreted widely as a threat of expulsion from membership, inasmuch as the miners do not choose their officers at conventions. That is done by referendum.

the next of which will be held in December. Moreover, Lewis has the constitutional power to remove Murray from his $18,000 a year job as vice president "for insubordination or just and sufficient cause."

United Mine Workers' sources already were speaking of John O'Leary of Pittsburgh as the next vice president.

The home defense movie, "Ready On the Home Front", was repeated in the Salem High school auditorium for the benefit of the general public last night.

Showdown Is Near On 40-Hour Week

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Demands for a showdown on the 40-hour week and wartime restrictions on labor activities persisted in Congress today with strong likelihood they would be pressed regardless of how President Roosevelt deals with the subject in his message next week.

With widely-varied proposals for labor legislation pending on a half-dozen different fronts, belief strengthened on Capitol Hill that the chief executive, in his drive to stem the mounting cost of living, would:

1. Lay down a general war labor policy, but oppose changes in statutes outlining labor's rights with the argument that industrial harmony and maximum production could be achieved best through co-operation.

2. Take steps to prevent blanket wage increases—possibly by issuing a directive order to the war labor board—but leave open the possibility of individual pay boosts and those made necessary by any further rise in living costs.

3. Stand firmly against suspension of the 40-hour week, maintaining it is not now linking work hours in war industries and that elimination of time and one-half pay after 40 hours would necessitate widespread upward adjustment of regular wages.

The President's advisors were reported in disagreement on the wage stabilization program.

One faction, headed by Price Administrator Leon Henderson, was said to have urged him to take advantage of a formula laid down in the price control bill and order government action toward leveling off wages as of a definite date, possibly Jan. 30 when the bill was signed.

On the other hand, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau was represented as arguing that the wage question should be left to individual negotiations or collective bargaining contracts, a position labor leaders have taken.

Senators' Pitching Ace First Casualty Of Big League Season

VETERAN LEONARD RECEIVES BROKEN ANKLE IN BATTLE

Tigers, Indians Heartened By Pitching; Yanks Donated Game

(By Associated Press)

The first serious casualty of the major league baseball season is Emil (Dutch) Leonard of the Washington Senators, whose luck seemed to be going from bad to worse.

The round-faced right-hander stumbled while crossing first base after running out a grounder in the second inning of yesterday's tussle with the Boston Red Sox and after he had been carried off the field his injury was found to be a broken ankle.

This means the big fellow who baffled the American league with his knuckle ball for the last couple of years, winning 18 games in 1941, will be out of action indefinitely and Washington's hopes of struggling toward the top of the second division received a setback.

Nats Victorious

The Senators won yesterday, 10-5, but the game itself was not a pleasing spectacle—there were 26 hits evenly divided and Boston made six errors to Washington's two.

The day proved more cheery for the Detroit Tigers and Cleveland Indians, both of whom were as fearful of their pitching in the south as Washington was hopeful.

Hal White, Detroit rookie right-hander, pitched his second straight shutout, 9-0, on five hits against the Chicago White Sox. The Tigers tore into old Ted Lyons for 16 hits.

For Cleveland Jim Bagby acquired his third straight victory, 9-2, over the St. Louis Browns. Bagby gave nine hits, but finished with a string of six scoreless innings.

The New York Yankees were donated a 6-4 decision by the Philadelphia Athletics, who out-hit the world champions 9 to 8 but made six errors. Joe Gordon came through with a single when the Yanks had the bases loaded in the eighth and knocked in two runs for the margin of victory.

Dodgers Win Again

Similarly the Brooklyn Dodgers were helped to a 9-5 triumph at Boston by three errors and a lot of lax play that didn't show up in the box score. Each team made 10 hits and seven pitchers saw service in the melee. Pete Reiser contributed a two-run homer.

The Cincinnati Reds staged their biggest rally of the year to score five runs in the seventh inning and beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-3. John Vander Meer pitched five-hit ball.

Lou Novikoff, the big bust of the Chicago Cubs last year, "busted" a sixth-inning home run to decide a pitching duel between Bill Lee and Max Lanier in favor of the Cubs, 2-1, over the St. Louis Cardinals. Each team made seven hits.

The New York Giants continued their timely hitting to down the Phils, 5-2. They made nine hits, two less than the tallenders.

Bless Me Withdrawn From Derby Classis

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 24.—Col. E. R. Bradley, only thoroughbred owned with a record of four Kentucky Derby victories, will not be represented in the renewal of the historic race at Churchill Downs May 2.

This announcement by Trainer Jimmy Smith was something of a blow to Bluegrass sentimentalists who have a big soft spot in the hearts for the cologne's colors, but it scarcely was a surprise after the performance of Bless Me, his only derby candidate, yesterday in the Blue Grass stakes at Keeneland.

The 83-year-old colonel, who watched the event, had announced previously Bless Me's showing would determine his chances for a derby run.

When the Bradley Colt ran second by three and a half lengths to Mrs. Payne Whitney's Shut Out, it was apparent he had dropped out of the Derby field.

Smith explained that Bless Me's effort wasn't "what we had hoped for."

Shut Out earned a net of $10,042 when he galloped across the finish line ahead of Bless Me and a full seven lengths in front of Hal Price Headley's Equinox, only other horse in the race.

Mrs. Whitney's Greentree stable's derby stock went scaring again with this victory. Devil Diver, its other leading derby candidate, was unable to start because of a minor cut on a leg.

The sharp ones in these parts figure that with both Greentree colts almost sure of starters in the big event May 2, the stables should provide plenty of competition for all comers.

Interest Developing In Masonic Headpin Event

Interest is developing in the headpin tournament at the Masonic alleys, which will continue to include Saturday, May 2. Cash prizes are offered for high scores. With leagues winding up their regular season, alleys are open for the headpin tournament on more nights. Some headpin tournament play is expected every night next week. The alleys also are open Saturday afternoons for this tournament.

BOWLING NEWS

Crescent Srs. and Zimmermans, first and second teams in the Commercial league standings, clashed at the Grate alleys last night and when the battle smoke cleared it was discovered that the Crescents had scored an important shutout victory. The win stretched their lead over Zimmermans to four games. O. Calladine fired a 211 to pace the victors while Slagle opened his series for Zimmermans with a lustrous 233 and wound up with a 609 total.

Smith kept pace with the league leader as they took three from the Trades Class on a forfeit while the fourth place Jaycees drubbed the Recreation three straight. In other matches, the Crescent Jrs. shutout Kellys, the Ohio Bell scored a twin triumph over Shasteens and Scotts took three from the Amateur Pros.

Reds Nominate Ray Starr To Hurl Against Pirates

PITTSBURGH, April 24.—The Cincinnati Reds endeavor to achieve their fourth victory of the 1942 season today, just to show, if nothing else, that they haven't played their best ball yet.

The victory, if Ray Starr gets in for them, would be their second in a row over the Pirates, who are pitching Lloyd Dietz, a former Red who beat Cincinnati in the second game of the year.

Yesterday's 5-3 win was, by and large, a semi-hillless affair for the Reds, who made only seven safeties off Johnny Lanning and Nick Strincevich. However, they managed to make five good for as many runs in the seventh inning.

DYKES DEPENDING ON HUMPHRIES AS STARTING HURLER

Former Indian Develops Control, Good Curve To Match Speed

(By United Press)

NEW YORK, April 24.—When Johnny Humphries tossed four shutout victories in five games for the Chicago White Sox last year, everybody in the major leagues was surprised except Coach Muddy Ruel.

Humphries got started so late last season after the White Sox obtained him from the Cleveland Indians on Feb. 7 that his final record showed only four victories against two defeats—but what victories.

"Sure, we figured for two years that Johnny had ability that Cleveland never was able to bring out and consequently, when the chance came, we grabbed him," said Ruel.

"When he arrived at Pasadena, Cal., we said to him: 'We want you to pitch the same way you did the first year you were with the Indians and the year before when you were the only Southern League pitcher to win 26 games.'"

Regains Confidence, Control

An apparently it worked because Humphries now has won a regular berth on the White Sox's very able pitching staff and is counted on by Manager Jimmy Dykes to take a regular, winning turn on the mound.

"In my best early days, I was just a thrower," said Humphries. "I believe I had as fast a ball as Bobby Feller but the batters finally found I had nothing to mix with my speed and I guess that's why Cleveland gave up on me."

According to Ruel, the White Sox' biggest difficulty in bringing Humphries around to winning form was in helping him regain confidence and control.

"Boy, did we watch that guy carefully," smiled Ruel. "Everytime he made the least little mistake we told him about it and we worked on helping him acquire a better curve and change of pace. We told him when he thought he was ready to start a game he should tell us—but not before."

Unfortunately, Johnny came down with the flu and it was several weeks before he could assume the schedule mapped out for his rejuvenation. He eventually was used in batting practice and a foot-fault in his delivery was corrected. That aided his control which became his biggest asset. He bettered his curve and acquired a fairly good change of pace.

Credits Dykes and Ruel

Then, in mid-season Humphries asked for relief work and he was so used. Not until July 19, did Dykes start him and then although he lost 3-1, he issued only one pass.

He did not start again until Aug. 14, when he blanked Detroit with six hits and only one walk. Five days later, he shut out Philadelphia, 1-0, with four hits and two walks and on Aug. 23, he gave Boston three passes and seven hits but nary a run. He pitched at St. Louis on Aug. 30 and the heat got him down—that is, a combination of the heat and the Browns—and he was knocked out of the box after pitching 35 consecutive scoreless innings.

In his next start, he blanked the A's with four hits and one pass and in the 7th inning he pitched during that skunk, he walked only 22 batters and led the league with an earned run average of 1.85.

"Two reasons won those games for me," says Humphries. "Manager Dykes and Coach Ruel gave me control and the other things necessary to win games."

SPORT CHATTER

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

NEW YORK, April 24.—One result of the gas shortage, according to folks who run sporting camps up north, will be increased popularity of canoe camping trips.

And we'll guarantee that if you want to canoe a dozen miles against a head wind, lug it and your camp equipment across a couple of portages and sleep on the ground a few nights, you won't need any obstacle courses to toughen you up.

One suggestion for conserving golf balls is for the U. S. G. A. to eliminate Rule 24, which forbids switching balls on the green. That would let duffers hack at old pellets in the rough, then change to a good one for putting.

Shear Nonsense

In the interests of more colorful sports writing, we quote: Herald Tribune (on Jim Tobin's slow ball): "Something which looked like a cross between a grapefruit and a bean bag, with perhaps a bit of dead cat thrown in."

Alan Ward, Oakland Tribune, (on the knocking-out of Ernie Nordman, Kansas City heavyweight): "Kansas City beef, heretofore considered the choicest in the land, has taken a terrific drop."

Today's Best Star

Bob Stedler, Buffalo Evening News: "Max Schmeling is to return to the ring. One way to settle this was would be to put him in the ring with Joe Louis. But that would be akin to murder, and after all this country is still humane and honorable."

ST. LOUIS HURLER STOPS SLUGGER BY GIVING HIM WALKS

Niggeling, Browns' Ace, Discovers Sure Way To Beat Boston

NEW YORK, April 24.—Johnny Niggeling, 36-year-old knuckleball pitcher for the St. Louis Browns, comes up today with the best way to stop Ted Williams, slugging outfielder of the Boston Red Sox, from belting the cover off the ball every time he comes to bat.

"That guy isn't human," says Niggeling. "I have thrown him knuckle balls, screw balls, curves and fast ones and he hit a home run off each delivery. But I finally found a way to stop him. I walked him and that's how I beat the Red Sox four times in six starts last year."

Niggeling is a native of Remsen, Ia., and the records show that he is one of baseball's nomads. He has pitched for 23 clubs, has been on the roster of two other clubs and played return engagements with three more. Now, at the age of 36, he looks forward to a new fast ball and his best major league record.

Claims New Fast Ball

"I sure have had a time holding a major league berth for two whole consecutive seasons," says Niggeling. "When I started in pro baseball I had a good knuckleball and figured I would become good enough for the big leagues with more experience. If it had not been for illness in 1932, I think I would have made it but that put me out for a whole year and I did not regain my stuff for two or three years. Now, I have added a screwball and curve in addition to a fast ball."

"Don't laugh at that fast ball, either. I know I'm figured as a slow ball man but that's because I do work in more slow stuff than fast. Actually I have a faster ball than I'm given credit for. I was surprised when Cincinnati let me go but with St. Louis I work often."

Shuttled Around Country

Niggeling started pitching professionally 13 years ago and in his first year out, he led the Mississippi Valley League pitchers with 15 victories and only four reverses. Moved up to Evansville in 1930, he won 19 and lost 10 and the following year he won 17 and lost 12 for Des Moines.

He seemed ready to stick in the majors then and Pittsburgh bought him. Hard luck hit him and he was taken sick. His ball-playing days appeared to be over. Kansas City gave him a trial in '33 and he won four. Sent to Nashville he was shuttled to Wilkes Barre where he got better than an even break.

The following season he won 17 and lost nine for Reading and during the next few years he bounced around with Kansas City, Oklahoma City, Newark, Boston Braves, Indianapolis and finally, Cincinnati for the windup of the 1939 season. He won two and lost one for the Reds and then was sold to the Browns for whom he was won 14 and lost 20 games in the last two years.

CHAPTER TWENTY-TWO
The Commander looked at him sternly.

"I am listening. What do you want to tell me?"
"Herr Kommandant, it is my duty to tell you of certain suspicions I have. I am carrying some most important papers, and I know I am being followed. There are three men on board and one woman. She seems to be the most dangerous of the lot. Undoubtedly an English Intelligence agent."

"Her name?"
"Allow me," and with these words Kurt walked over to an open pass-ports file near the desk. He quickly picked out one, looked at the photograph, and laid it in front of the Captain. "I've sent a cable to Berlin about her. She's already in custody."

"Ach...! A British spy... We'll teach those fools to mind their own business. Let me see..." He read under his breath: "Duncan—Brinda... Born in—Burma, India, May 24th, 1916... Single... Nationality: British... Residence: 16 Portland Square, London W... Passport issued by: Consulate in London..."

The Commander looked up at Larsen: "What's the charge against that girl?"

"Herr Kommandant, I must inform you that since the Vandam left Southampton, this woman has tried to insinuate herself into my confidence and asked me a great number of questions about our Fatherland, about dissensions that might occur in our party, etc... Naturally, Herr Kommandant, I gave her false information while pretending to succumb to her wiles."

The officer appeared to be greatly interested by Larsen, who went on: "This would be enough to warrant our taking care of this woman. But you will be amazed, Herr Kommandant, when I reveal the true identity of this Miss Duncan..."

"What do you mean... Is she travelling under false papers?"
"No, but I am absolutely sure that she is the confidential secretary of the Chief of the British Intelligence."

The U-boat commander seemed hardly able to hide his satisfaction. He looked at Larsen with a grin and exclaimed, "Wunderschoon, Z-33! You deserve the Iron Cross."

Kurt smiled modestly and concluded: "Herr Kommandant, I request that you officially arrest Miss Duncan immediately."

The U-boat commander rose and rang the bell, the chief purser responding.

"Do you wish something, sir?"
"Yes, Please call the two sailors who are on guard outside your office."

"Very well, sir."
For a few seconds, the Commander and Nazi spy faced each other with radiant smiles. They looked like two hunters ready to return home with a magnificent bull moose.

The two sailors entered and saluted the officer.

"Have Miss Duncan brought in right away."

The chief purser objected apologetically: "Miss Duncan is in custody, sir; orders from..."

"Never mind orders—bring her in right away!" the German Captain's voice thundered.

Within a few minutes Brinda was ushered in.

"Is this Miss Duncan?" The Captain turned to Larsen. He nodded assent silently.

At this minute the U-boat skipper got up and pointing at Larsen said quietly in plain English: "Arrest this man immediately!"
Larsen recoiled as if from a Stuka-fired bomb.

"Pardon, Herr Kommandant... I don't understand..."
The Captain stopped him with a gesture. While two sailors handcuffed Larsen, their Commander took Kurt by the shoulder and burst into sarcastic laughter.

"Even the most experienced of spies—Baron Schleicher, alias Herr Brandstetter—can encounter extraordinary surprises. But let me thank you for having helped us spot you—Mr. Z-33!"

Speechless, Larsen gazed incredulously from Brinda to the supposed U-boat captain, who then removed his coat, uncovering a British naval officer's uniform.

"I am Lieutenant Commander Ainsworth of His Majesty's Destroyer Shark, temporarily assigned to H. M. Snark camouflaged as U-69. If you'd care to observe the flag..."

Larsen looked through the port hole and saw that the swastika had disappeared from the top of the Royal Navy ensign was waving in its stead.

"I am turning you over to the British authorities as a prisoner," when the Snark reaches Plymouth. You will be able to make all your explanations before a court martial."

"Including your recent parachutist activities in England," Brinda suddenly added.

Commander Ainsworth looked at her approvingly, then ordered, "Lock them up!"

The two sailors led Larsen away, while Lieutenant Ainsworth invited Brinda to sit down. "And now, Miss Duncan, tell me how did you come to suspect him? For, I suppose, you questioned him on purpose to make him suspect you?"

Brinda smiled: "Right you are! There were several things. To begin with his voice... I remembered the voice of the man I picked up one night—who later on turned out to be the parachutist—the murderer of Kiley, Sir John's most trusted officer."

"You have good ears, Miss Duncan."

"Just a good memory, Lieutenant. Then the second thing was a German cigarette he offered me. A Manoli. It made me suspicious. A Dane wouldn't carry them. Larsen seemed to have a large quantity on him. Whenever I asked for one he produced a full box."

"For someone so young, you have learned to observe well."

"The next thing was his admiration for the quality of the butter and the coffee."

"That's true—these clues are significant, Miss Duncan."

She smiled: "Only a German who has had to do without coffee and butter for a long time would bother to praise them. I also discovered a deep scar across his cheek—which he carefully covered up with makeup. I found an excuse to wipe his cheek and the scar became visible."

"Did you expect to get some information out of him?"

"No. I expected him to mislead me and thus prove to me that my suspicions were right."

"Smart girl! I'm glad I've got him," the Lieutenant replied and Brinda suggested, "But let's see now if we can find the lost list we're after."

"We'd better go through our prisoner's cabin, first."

After a long search in Larsen's stateroom, they sat down tired — disappointed. Documents—codes—photographs, among others one from the woman Mara—who had originally betrayed Sir John with the list—but the list itself: Nowhere!

The chief purser appeared:

"Sorry to hurry you, Lieutenant, but my captain is anxious to continue our voyage..."

"Yes, yes, of course," Ainsworth replied.

But Brinda suddenly grabbed his arm.

"The spy we've caught has an aide on board! Give me 15 minutes. I've got an idea. I'll be back."

She entered the elevator: "B Deck"

With determined steps she entered the bar, deserted by the anxious passengers who knew nothing of the events of the last half hour.

Turning to the barman, Brinda ordered a "Pink Lady," and added, "the same you served me in the 'Red Cat' the other night. Remember, Konrad!"

His face became white as he answered, "Yes, Madame."

He returned with the drinks and Brinda took a hold of his arm, saying, "I think you'd better come along without making any noise."

The man looked blank. Brinda pulled a tiny gun from her handbag. "We're going to your cabin," she ordered. "I know all about you, Konrad."

Brinda followed him down the winding back stairway to the cabin, which she entered first, the barman closing the door behind her and locking it. Then Brinda pointed the gun at him, saying, "And now, hand it over."

He laughed out loud.

"I know you've got it, your comrade talked!" she snapped. "He has been arrested. Tried to save himself by giving you away."

The barman started shaking. "What do you mean? I don't believe you..."

"The list... I want the list. Your comrade gave it to you. You were to deliver it to the captain of the U-boat that was to meet you."

"How do you know?"

"Your Z-33 squealed!" she continued bluffing.

There was a brief silence.

"You'll never get it!" he growled.

With a strong push he knocked her aside and Brinda fell. She hit the table and everything went black. She felt herself sinking into unconsciousness as strong fingers dug into her throat.
